ARPER

Arper was established in 1989 in Italy, springing from a previous, artisanal leather-working business. From the late 90s onwards, Arper started making significant investments in technological innovation and new materials research. These were the years of major partnerships with Studio Lievore, Altherr, Molina, which led to many successful products as for example the Catifa chair, which is available in numerous different typologies. Collaboration with Rodolfo Dordoni, Jean Marie Massaud and Simon Pagnelly were to follow.

In 2008 Arper demonstrated its firm determination to implement an environmental impact plan through actions covering every aspect of its production chain. In November 2008 Arper's entire chair production obtained GREENGUARD certification.

Today, Arper is well positioned to interpret the requests and trends of international markets (the company exports to over 80 countries) with a comprehensive range of chairs and tables.

CATIFA 46. Design by Lievore, Altherr, Molina. This is the more compact interpretation of the classical Catifa 53 design. The constantly evolving Catifa 46 collection also includes bar stools. CATIFA 80. Design by Lievore, Altherr, Molina. This lounge chair enhances both the domestic and office environment. Catifa 80 expands the concept of comfort and relaxation and places the emphasis on sensuous, natural design.

DUNA. Design by Lievore, Altherr, Molina. With its enveloping design, Duna is suitable for domestic or contract use. The polyethylene shell with optional seat cushion is suitable for outdoor use.

EOLO. Design by Lievore, Altherr, Molina. An example for total versatility in both design as well as adaptability to different environments. Characteristic for the Eolo table is the central column and the four-star base in white lacquered steel.

CATIFA 53. Design by Lievore, Altherr, Molina. Created in 2001, Catifa has evolved into a complete seating system. Unmistakable, innovative design comes along with a broad choice of materials and colours.

ASTON. Design by J. M. Massaud. This chair appeals through its sleek, light, dynamic lines, distinctive design and balanced proportions.

BARBAR. Design by S. Pengelly. Youthful and welcoming, the Babar stool is the ideal complement for informal domestic settings and fashionable public spaces.

LOOP. Design by Lievore, Altherr, Molina. Loop's soft, elegant lines are a stylish expression of Arper's new departure in the divan and sofa segment.

DIZZIE. Design by Lievore, Altherr, Molina. This table comes with a white top and choice of 7 colours for the base.

LEAF. Design by Lievore, Altherr, Molina. Contemporary comfort inspired by nature. A fresh interpretation of clean, essential lines that will fit beautifully into any setting, at home or outdoors.
