Wilkhahn

WILKHAHN

Its success story started in the early nineteen fifties, when this multiple award-winning office furniture manufacturer launched some new designs by architects and designers. Wilkhahn products excel by their independent, simple design, their efficiency, longevity and ageless styling.

Wilkhahn's appeal lies in their discreet designs. Their products stand out without dominating the entire space or taking up the limelight. Also in terms of functionality the company has been seen to set cornerstones that signal the trend for new generations of furniture. Wilkhahn does not focus on manufacturing a new chair but rather on improving the quality of sitting. Not on manufacturing tables but rather on facilitating communication. Not on sofas but rather on providing recreation and relaxation. The products are manufactured based on the principles of design, innovation, and quality.

Wilkhahn's product portfolio comprises high-end conference furnishings and office chairs as well as lounge furniture. The building design of Wilkhahn's headquarters is impressive too: The production facilities by Frei Otto and the assembly halls by Thomas Herzog are considered outstanding instances of contemporary architecture.
